In informant who has furnished reliable information in the past on the morning of October 27, 1962, advised that Marcos Diaz Lora and Carlos Areola, Cuban exiles who are associated with the subject, disclosed that a group under the subject's leadership planned to leave Miami, Florida, on the evening of October 27, 1962, in two boats for Cay Sal, a British Island located about forty miles north of Cuba. The boats were described as an 85-foot vessel named "Star" and a speed-boat named "Wiggle." The subject is the former Chief of the Cuban Air Force under Castro, who broke with Castro in 1959 and who has been active in anti-Castro endeavors. Marcos Diaz Lora is his brother.

The above-mentioned group includes Marcos Diaz Lora, Carlos Areola, Armando Ceballos, and other unidentified Cuban exiles, as well as Frank Anthony Murphy, a Catholic priest who has been involved in numerous Cuban revolutionary activities. Murphy is more commonly known as Frank Martin. The group plans to carry automatic rifles and machine guns.

After arriving at Cay Sal, a small contingent of the group reportedly will leave on the "Wiggle" for a destination and objective in Cuba which are unknown to the informant.

The informant subsequently advised on October 27, 1962, that the foregoing plans were delayed because of the failure of Marcos to deliver money needed for operational requirements. The informant also stated that the group was still active in putting the plan into effect as soon as possible.

NOTE: This information was included in letter to the Attorney General, 10/29/62, copy for AAG-Yeagley concerning Cuban crisis.

An informant who has furnished reliable information in the past on the morning of October 27, 1962, advised that ~~Aracelis Diaz Lora and Carlos Garcia~~, Cuban exiles who are associated with the subject, disclosed that a group under the subject's leadership planned to leave Miami, Florida, on the evening of October 27, 1962, in two boats for Cay Sal, a British Island located about forty miles north of Cuba. The boats were described as an 83-foot vessel named "Wah" and a speed-boat named "Maggie". The subject is the former Chief of the Cuban Air Force under Castro, who broke with Castro in 1955 and who has been active in anti-Castro endeavors. Aracelis Diaz Lora is his brother.

The above-mentioned group includes Aracelis Diaz Lora, Carlos Garcia, Fernando Caballero, and other unidentified Cuban exiles, as well as Frank Anthony Sturgis, a United States citizen who has been involved in numerous Cuban revolutionary adventures. Sturgis is more commonly known as Frank Fleming. The group plans to carry automatic rifles and machine guns.

After arriving at Cay Sal, a small contingent from the group reportedly will leave on the "Maggie" for a destination and objective in Cuba which are unknown to the informant.

The informant subsequently advised on October 27, 1962, that the foregoing plans were delayed because of the failure of Caballero to deliver money needed for electrical repairs aboard the "Maggie". It was further stated that the group was still intent on putting the plans into effect as soon as possible.

NOTE: This information was included in letter to the Attorney General, 10/29/62, copy for AAG Yeagley concerning Cuban crisis.
